Your First Fashion Tip is; About Your Body Shape / Body Shape Guideline

It is my goal to give you some excellent tips on how to dress well, and how to manage your wardrobe so that you look and feel better about yourself for any occasion.

Many of these fashion tips are from the TV show What Not To Wear. Clinton Kelly is well known in the fashion industry as the go to guy for anything fashion. What Not To Wear features fashion makeovers for “normal” people and the advice given is simply stellar.

He explains fashion to people this way; your body is a vessel, and it's the vessel that you have been given to carry your soul around in this lifetime. That makes it a beautiful vessel and its okay to decorate that vessel.

I do Style Sessions and personal shopping for women of all ages, shapes and sizes. I often find these women don't really have a good idea of “their personal fashion” and most have never really taken time to evaluate themselves and in what they look best wearing.

Have you ever really studied how you dress, how you look and how you present yourself to others (fashion wise that is)?

Change Your Look – Change Your Life!

These tips on creating a closet specifically for your body shape are paraphrased for the most part from “What Not To Wear”, with a little of my own knowledge thrown in, that should work for any woman who desires to look her best at all times.

You are presenting yourself to the world and making great first impressions (sometimes lasting) in how you dress and carry yourself.

You are in control of your future and your look.

If you hold a professional position or one in any kind of customer service where you directly represent your company, you are your company. Represent it well.

If you are a stay at home mom or somewhere in between, you want to put your best foot forward when you are out in the community, no matter what your errand. Be someone people appreciate looking at, and someone who makes a great first impression.

Think about this; your body shape, build and skin tone relate directly to how your clothes look on you. By knowing your body build, shape and skin tone you can choose the right colors that are “you”.

Body Shape Guideline

So, you are blessed with an “Apple Shaped Figure”

You know you have a full-figured APPLE SHAPE if...

- Your upper body is noticeably larger than your lower body
- Any weight you gain mostly goes to your waistline

Change Your Look – Change Your Life!

Dressing For A Full Apple Shaped Figure

- You want to emphasize your legs, hips and arms
- You want to aim to elongate the upper body

What to wear

- Wear straight tops (not baggy) that elongate your body and don't cut you in half
- Wear clothes that draw attention away from your midsection
- Make the focus your legs
- Wearing tailored styles will make you look slimmer and give you a great shape
- Wear jackets that are tailored, long, collarless, cardigan; the same as for a curved shape
- Tops should have clean lines with open necklines like boat necks, halter, scooped, wide v-necks.
- The length of the top should end below your widest point; below your bottom or longer
- Straight long tunic tops that taper at the waist and flair slightly suit apple shaped bodies beautifully
- Pants should be long and fluid; avoid tight pants around the waist area
- A-lines that are gently flared and end just above the knee
- If you have larger hips / thighs, emphasize the shoulders
- Pin stripes / vertical stripes help create the illusion of length
- Avoid fabrics that pull or stick, wear soft fabrics, and avoid wearing patterns on your lower half
- Don't wear bulky fabrics such as mohair or wool
- Stay away from black as much as possible

Change Your Look – Change Your Life!

You know you have a RECTANGLE SHAPED FIGURE IF...

- You have few curves and your figure is straight up and down
- Weight gain seems to be distributed throughout your frame

What to wear

- You want to emphasize your legs, hips and arms and create the illusion of a curvier, more feminine frame
- Wear V-neck and U-neck lines
- Wear jackets or tops that hug your waist to accentuate your curves
- Trousers and jeans should be slightly flared / bootlegged (will imitate curves)
- Don't wear straight and mid-length boxy skirts
- Wear a belt (helps create a waist line)
- Skirts should be well tailored and fitted to emphasize your waist and arms
- Wear bold prints and bright colors. These can give you the illusion of a curvier body

You know you have a CONE SHAPED figure if...

- Your upper body is larger than your lower body
- The majority of your weight is in your chest, back, arms and stomach

What to wear

□

- You want to emphasize your hips and legs
- Your goal is to divert the eye downward to offset your shoulders and bust

Change Your Look – Change Your Life!

- You should avoid strapless, full sleeved or sleeveless designs and horizontal patterns around the waist, snug and curvy tops
- A tunic top can help minimize broad shoulders and full busts. It will also tend to lengthen your waist
- Avoid wearing belts. They make your shoulders and bust appear larger
- A V-neck, or a plunging neckline will tend to soften the appearance of broad shoulders
- These things you should not wear; breast patch pockets and cowl bodices
- Generally, darker colors are best for jackets and tops. Avoid wearing black if your skin tone is light
- Bright colored trousers and skirts and printed bottoms will help draw attention to your lower body
- A wrap dress with full or $\frac{3}{4}$ sleeves are very flattering for this figure

You Know You Have a PEAR SHAPE if...

- Your upper body is noticeably smaller than your lower body
- When you gain weight it goes mostly to your thighs and hips\

What to wear

- You want to emphasize your bust, arms, neck, waist and face
- Bring the eye up from your body by broadening your shoulder line with wide necks and lots of color
- The focus is at or above your waist
- Jackets should be loosely fitted, shaped and belted; asymmetrically wrapped styles, robe or trench coats suite the pear shaped body best
- Your trousers should be a little more relaxed with a very slight flare
- If you have a larger bottom don't wear jeans with pockets
- A-line skirts will flatter this body well
- Do not wear baggy full maxi skirts

Change Your Look – Change Your Life!

- Collars should be round, cowl, v-necked, draped, scooped or rolled. This helps draw attention away from your hip area
- Stay with dark colors below the waist. You should however wear bright colors and different textures above the waist.
- Always avoid clinging fabrics and patterns around your hips.

You Know You Have an HOURGLASS FIGURE if...

- You are curvy with a defined waist
- Weight gain is evenly distributed evenly on your curves

What to wear

- You want to emphasize your shoulders, waist, hips and chest
- Your goal is to elongate your overall height
- You should take the focus away from hour bottom, hips and thighs by wearing lightly draping fabrics to soften your curves
- Accentuate your waist by wearing jackets with a subtly defined waist, slightly fitted and
- Long pleated skirts
- Slightly fitted and flared dresses
- Collars should be notched, rolled, cowl or straight. A plunging neckline will add emphasis

Wear fitted bottom jeans or trousers

Day 2 will focus on FOUR MAJOR FASHION FAUX pas you MUST AVOID

Change Your Look – Change Your Life!

The Four Worst Fashion Faux pas

There are FOUR MAJOR FASHION FAUX pas you MUST AVOID.

#1 The MOM Jean

You see them every day. Where do they come from? You may even have a pair. What are they?

They have a high waist, a light wash and a tapered leg. They make your butt look absolutely huge!

Don't wear them! Instead, get yourself a dark wash denim jean. They make you look better and are much more stylish.

#2 THE HOODIE

It makes you look slumpy, lumpy and dumpy. Perhaps you have one in your closet for jogging or something. Did you ever see anyone using the hood (other than maybe a gang member or bank robber)? There is no justifiable reason for a hoodie. They have no shape and they just hang there, on your body.

#3 WHITE SNEAKERS

Only wear a white cross sneaker when you working out. A white cross trainer is NOT a fashion setter. It is NOT a stylish shoe.

#4 THE GIVEAWAY T-SHIRT; free for a reason. If you have any, remove them from your closet now; give them away and DON'T WEAR THEM ANYMORE, EVER. They are the least stylish thing you could own. Sure, if you are in a group and everyone is wearing one, that's fine, otherwise you are advertising for someone else, not you.

Change Your Look – Change Your Life!

BOTTOM LINE; get rid of your mom jeans, white sneakers (except for the gym), “give away” t-shirts and the old standby – hoodie. They simply do not do a single thing for your body or your image.

Day 3

Setting up your wardrobe

Here are some nice little tidbits on some of the clothing articles you should have in your closet.

If you are like most of us, your closet has a few "unworn" items that has been there forever. Some are outdated, some don't fit and you are saving some, well, just to be saving them.

Why not take a few minutes today to really organize your closet. Get rid of those items you really don't wear, haven't worn for a year or more or simply don't need. You will create new space for your new clothes as you begin experimenting with fashion trends that really compliments your body. Some of your current items may not do this and after you learn what does you might begin to replace what's in your closet pretty quickly.

Change Your Look – Change Your Life!

Day 3 is about What You Should Have (minimums). You probably have a number of items mentioned here. Why not check your closet as you review the information? It might save you time later.

As always, if you find this information useful please join our facebook group Facebook page @ <https://www.facebook.com/groups/premierbyjudy>

Day 3

There are many pieces of clothing that every woman should own, and opinions differ. However, most fashion consultants almost always include the following as a minimum, including me;

Every woman should have at least the following pieces of clothing in her wardrobe regardless of body shape, body type and age.

DARK WASH JEAN

You may have to work at this one. You may need to try on a number of pairs (more than 2 or 3) of jeans to find just the right one for you, but you will. Just take the time to find the one that fits you perfectly, look good, and follow the fashion tips in earlier emails for your body.

Also, you can't expect your jeans to fit perfectly off the rack. One of the "secrets" of great style is finding the right clothes and having them tailored if necessary. Women with great style try on tons of clothes.

Try a trouser cut, a boot cut and you can also do a skinny jean if you have the right body type.

Change Your Look – Change Your Life!

Remember, women of great style try on tons of clothes. They don't just accept things off the rack unless they look really good on them, and then if tailoring is necessary, it's done.

So, try a trouser cut, a boot cut, you can also do a skinny jean if you have the right body type. A dark wash jean will be better than a light wash mom jean any day. Any of these jeans will look better than a mom jean any day of the week!

Blouses

A good collection of cotton blouses with just a touch of spandex or lycra for stretch and shaping will allow you to intermix your wardrobe at will.

Blouses are not “fancy”; it's just a name for a woman's shirt. Blouses add a lot of color or print, or both, to your wardrobe and outfit.

Blouses have seams and darts. Why? Because you have curves. Your blouse should at least indicate that you have them. They need to be constructed around your curves. Don't ever forget though that your “girls” need to be covered. Don't advertise them unless you mean to.

Clothing is designed with the bust in mind in a certain place. Your bust is halfway between your shoulder and elbow. When you look in the mirror you should feel good about your curves. You do need to make sure that when you have your bra on the girls are in the right place.

Fitted Bra

Absolutely tops in the must have department is a professional bra fitting. This is perhaps one of the most important things you can do for your figure and unfortunately very few women ever take the time to do this. It will absolutely do wonders for your figure!

Change Your Look – Change Your Life!

If you have a tummy, and who doesn't (except the lucky ones), you have the opposite of the hourglass shape. Don't get down on yourself for this. This is where a professional bra fitting will help make a world of difference in your figure (it helps for all body shapes!) Your girls will be lifted up and separated (between them and your tummy).

Take advantage of that separation. Most women are narrowest right under their bust with the right fitting bra. An empire seam or a belt under your bust, or some detail that brings the eye to that area will flatter your figure.

You also want something that floats away from the body under the empire seam. Many women feel they are wearing a maternity top if they wear an empire seam top. You want to do something that floats away from the body under the empire seam, but you look for something with almost an a-line seam under that, so that it floats away from the tummy.

Well Fitted Jacket

Every wardrobe needs a good structured jacket.

It doesn't have to be wool. You can do a crop, trench or denim jacket but remember, don't do denim on denim. Any type of jacket will work as long as it adds a bit of layer to your look.

Canvas is great in a jacket, lightweight of course. Your jacket should create interest and add some depth to your look. Jackets also can add a bit of sophistication as well.

Make sure the jacket accentuates your figure. Look for two "c" curves, one on either side, where the jacket defines a waistline (even if you don't have one).

Change Your Look – Change Your Life!

Larger busted women will want more buttons – you want to “lock and load” the chest area so it is not popping out above your buttons. Smaller chested women can wear one-button jackets, curvier women will want 2-3 buttons.

Trench Coat

They are big in the in-between seasons. Classic khaki with a plaid lining is ok, but bright and colorful with detail and a big belt will suit most occasions. A little hardware won't hurt either. This never goes out of style.

Cardigans

...But not just any cardigan.

Every woman should have a Cashmere cardigan. Men love them and there is just something about how they feel against your skin that makes you feel all warm inside. Prices are more reasonable than you think and when looking, look for colors that flatter you.

In any cardigan look for sturdy shaping, not shapeless, and remember that $\frac{3}{4}$ sleeves always make you appear taller and slimmer.

A Great Day Dress

Day dresses are much underrated. Of all your clothes, a day dress is the easiest to wear and accessorize. You simply throw it over your head, add a little jewelry, and you're good to go.

You shouldn't think that you are overdressing with a great day dress when you really aren't.

A cotton dress makes a great day dress. Added to a flat sandal, a little jewelry and you're ready for the day, and just about anything that comes your way - AND you will look great doing it!

Change Your Look – Change Your Life!

The right day dress can also be dressed UP with the right accessories, carrying you from day to night, office to evening.

The Little Black Dress

We all need a little black dress, and not just any old little black dress. One that can do double duty – one you can wear to work and also dress up with in the evening with jewelry and heels. You can do this by pairing it up with a blouse or jacket in the daytime, and just your little black dress and jewelry for the evening.

A Cocktail Dress

Not Black! Black is not always slimming. And it's not about the color anyway, it's about the shape of the dress. Generally speaking dresses that have v-necks are easier to wear for most women. A defined waist is good too. Your dress should define the narrowest part of your waist. A flared skirt may work, but if you can wear it, a sheath dress can be very flattering as well.

You should choose a flattering color or print, especially for daytime events. For evening, more subdued colors can be played up with the right accessories.

The Pencil Skirt

Pencil skirts have a reputation for being sort of fancy, but they don't have to be.

They are sexy but you can do a black skirt, or even a dark denim pencil skirt can be a good option for many women.

There are two ways to do a pencil skirt. Just two. And you have to decide if you carry your weight in your mid section, or not.

If you have a tummy, be careful not to tuck anything into anything. And if you want to do a pencil skirt, you should pair it with a blouse that comes away from the hip.

Change Your Look – Change Your Life!

If you're narrow through the waist, hips, and thighs, you can absolutely tuck something into the pencil skirt, and that will accentuate just how narrow the waist is. If you're doing a heel with your skirt, you can do a hem to the bottom of your knee if you're tall. And if you're petite, you might want to hem your skirt to mid-kneecap or just above the knee.

Walking Shorts

You want a flat front walking short hemmed to the top of the knee. And this is for those of you who are addicted to cropped pants.

Why is everyone wearing cropped pants?

...Because you only have to worry about one measurement and that's the waist.

Cropped pants generally work best when they're hemmed just below the widest part of the calf and even then it's tricky. Be careful if you're a petite wearing cropped pants hemmed for a taller woman because you might look like you're in waders. Anything falling between the calf and the ankle gives you a "chopped" look and makes you appear shorter.

Boots

Every woman should have a great pair of boots in her wardrobe. They can be a riding boot or a pointy toed boot to elongate the leg. You don't want to tuck your jeans into your boots if you carry your weight in your hips because that can make your hips look bigger, but a boot that you can wear inside a boot cut jean is a great option for you.

Flats

You should have a cute pair of flat shoes or a wedge, especially one that has a great color, or a great print. It's a great way to add interest to an outfit, and it's just a stylish shoe that isn't a sneaker.

Change Your Look – Change Your Life!

Sandals

Flip flops are used for the beach and public showers. They're just one baby step up from being barefoot. but so are sandals. You can get nice cushioned soles.

So, that means you should only be wearing flip flops in the most casual situations. That does not mean work, or the doctor's office. Maybe running an errand or two, definitely the beach – other than that, wear sandals.

Heels

The great thing about a platform heel is that you can subtract a bit of height – it's like a training wheel. Platform shoes are generally easier to walk in, they give you the height, but you don't have to worry about tipping over so much.

Day Bag and Metallic Clutch

You need a great day bag in a neutral color, or a pseudo color, like black, gray, navy, red, or burgundy. And for the metallic clutch, you can mix your metallic's, but bronze or gunmetal seem to mix best with both sets of gold or silver jewelry.

There you have it, some of the top "must haves" for any woman. But that's not all there is to great fashion.

Do you know how to dress sexy without being a bit sleazy? I made a great video on this subject, be sure to email me; judy@premierbyjudy.net for it.

What every woman should know;

HOW TO LOOK SEXY WITHOUT LOOKING SLEAZY

It's a thin line yet very few women know how to pull it off easily, and let's face it, most of us like to dress sexy every now and then. If you say "not" you are kidding yourself, aren't you.

Change Your Look – Change Your Life!

Regardless of our body shape or size we all would like to "step out" on occasion and turn a few heads. It's just our nature as a woman.

Now's your chance. Today's Fashion Tip will let you do this and not appear sleazy at all, and you WILL turn a few heads.

As always, if you find today's Fashion Tips beneficial please go to my Face book page <https://www.facebook.com/groups/premierbyjudy>

Now, on to DAY 4...

Day 4

What's sexy without being sleazy?

Adding unexpected touches (a wrapped shirt) and glamorous essential (red lips, shades).

It's about dressing in fabrics that feel great against your skin.

And it's about choosing more original ways to express your sensuality.

These get-sexy looks work for any age or budget: some are after-dark only (shoulder-duster earrings), while others can work for daytime (touchable fabrics, hats). Here's how to add sizzle to your look without sacrificing your modesty.

1. Wear something ordinary in an unexpected way.

It doesn't have to be a huge statement like wearing a jacket backwards; subtle alterations pack the chicest punch. For example, take a basic man's white shirt (slightly oversized), unbutton it, wrap it so that one side overlaps the other and tuck in.)

2. Do red lipstick.

Pale lips may be trendy, but nothing does the job like red. Use lip liner for a perfect appearance, choose a creamy matte in a red that best suits your skin tone (blue-reds for darker skin tones; orangey hues for olive; true reds for blondes). Use a light hand for the rest of the face because the lips should take center stage.

Change Your Look – Change Your Life!

3. Add a hat.

Nothing attracts attention quite like a hat. First, it takes guts to wear one. Second, it takes panache to carry it off. Combine the two qualities and you get major sex appeal. Stay with classic shapes -- the fedora, the beret -- to make it easier to pull off.

4. Accessorize with shoulder-duster earrings.

Skip every other piece of jewelry, pull your hair back and make sure your makeup stays soft. This look goes great with bare shoulders and updos, too. Definitely an after-dark look.

5. Make it metallic.

Black may be super sexy, but gold, silver, copper and pewter are especially luminous when you're going for vavavoom. Look for simple shapes (the story here is the fabric and color, not the line of the outfit) and tones that flatter your skin color. Pass on major jewelry and makeup to let the dress really shine.

6. Adopt an exotic look.

The cheongsam is a classic example of a dress with international allure. Harem pants, sarongs and embroidered items are all borrowed ethnic looks with tons of feminine charm. The mandarin-collar dress from China is flattering, chic and always intriguing.

7. Wear shades.

Perhaps the single sexiest item you can own are a great pair of sunglasses. They add tons of mystery, look cute even on top of your head and actually serve the practical purpose of protecting your eyes.

8. Make a grand exit.

Sexy is all about surprises, so a deceptively simple dress from the front can be a showstopper in the back. Open backs, lace-up backs, great dress trains all make for dramatic effects.

9. Stay soft with touchable fabrics.

Forget everything you've ever heard about hardcore leathers or sparkly sequins being heat-inducing. Cashmere, silky satin, buttery soft suede's are the real scene-stealers. Touchable fabrics not only invite another's touch, they have the added bonus of feeling great against your skin so you feel pampered and sexy.

Change Your Look – Change Your Life!

10. Play peek-a-boo.

No need to bare your breasts, even with lace. Nude linings, camisoles and slips all keep you covered while the lace itself stays really suggestive.

Day 5 “How To Build A Jewelry Wardrobe”. You really don’t have to have a LOT of jewelry, you just need a few of the RIGHT pieces to start...

How would you like a weight loss program that gives you the appearance of losing weight with little or no effort?

Really...

Yep. You are about to learn how to wear jewelry in a way that flatters your face and body so much that you will look pounds thinner immediately!

How?

JEWELRY ROBICS. I didn’t make this up, but it REALLY works.

On to DAY 5...

“The Jewelry Workout”!

Get ready, your workout is on the next page...

Change Your Look – Change Your Life!

JEWELRY ROBICS

Lose Weight in Minutes

Lose weight and add inches to your height with a new diet breakthrough! Here are some great ideas on how to look slimmer through how you dress and accessorize!

1. Always wear earrings! They draw attention to your face and away from "problem" areas! Larger earrings can take 10 pounds off your appearance.
2. Wearing a jacket or a long necklace will create a slenderizing vertical line!
3. Dressing in all one color (monochromatic) will give the illusion of appearing as much as 10 - 20 pounds slimmer and 3 inches taller. Also, while black is a powerful slimmer, any color will work. Add an oblong scarf to bring in color and add a slenderizing vertical line!
4. As an alternative to monochromatic dressing, think "same-same-different!" The use of a jacket or top (left open) over a different colored blouse creates another slenderizing vertical line!
5. A slim V-neck or a few open buttons show off the clavicle and elongate the neck.
6. Toss in a pair of shoulder pads under every garment. Over 90% of all women have sloping shoulders and should be wearing them! Shoulder pads not only square up sloping shoulders but also give the appearance of adding about 2 inches to your height and making your waist and hips appear smaller!
7. Add a pair of sleeve bands and push sleeves up to take another 10 pounds off your appearance.
8. Flat-front pants are the way to go! For most of us, there's no need for extraneous material around our midsection! Skip the pleats and patch pockets and keep things streamlined!
9. Hose should match your hemline, shoes or both. This gives you additional height. (Never wear hose that are darker than your shoes. This cuts off the bottom of your body and makes your feet appear larger.)
10. When wearing pins, place them at the base of the shoulder pad to draw attention up to your face and away from your hips.

Change Your Look – Change Your Life!

And now DAY 6 - I do hope you have enjoyed my fashion tips and at least of few of them helped you round out your wardrobe.

During my Style Sessions with women of all ages, ethnic groups, all sizes and shapes, the one thing the majority of them express appreciation for is how they can use jewelry to maximize their wardrobes. Most have never given this much thought and fewer still have any idea of exactly how you can have that completely "put together" look with just the right pieces of jewelry, even professionals.

Today's economy prevents many women from buying the clothes they would like to have, especially quality items. The same is true with jewelry as well.

The upward spiral of the cost of gold and silver further limit them of their jewelry choices. Precious gems fall into the same area - cost.

I've a great surprise for you in the jewelry arena.

I am going to tell you how you can get FREE jewelry form America's #1 High Fashion Jewelry Manufacturing and Distribution company.

But first, let's talk about High Fashion Jewelry.

High Fashion Jewelry is NOT costume jewelry. High Fashion Jewelry is coated thickly with REAL GOLD and REAL Silver, and made to withstand many years of use.
